

STOKES LEAVES HOSPITAL AND GOES TO JERSEY HOME; GIRLS ARE STILL IN JAIL

Hotel Man Out of Danger
From Bullet Wounds, Now
With Wife.

MISS GRAHAM TALKS.
Denies "Hypnotic Influence"
Over Companion and Says
She's Not Thirty.

W. E. D. Stokes, the millionaire victim of the sensational shooting in the Varuna apartments, Eighth street and Broadway, a week ago yesterday, was discharged from the Roosevelt Hospital today and was taken in his car to his cottage at Long Branch, N. J.

According to the hospital surgeon, all danger of infection from the three bullet wounds has passed, and the convalescence of the patient is certain. It is not unlikely that Mr. Stokes may be able to appear in the library of the District Attorney's office to-morrow afternoon when Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham are again arraigned on the charge of attempting to slay him.

Terrance J. McManus, Stokes's lawyer, would not promise the appearance of his client to-morrow, but said he certainly would appear to press the charge of attempted murder next week.

Mr. Stokes left the hospital unaccompanied at 10 o'clock. He was wheeled through the rear corridors to an obscure entrance on the Fifty-eighth street side, in front of which Mrs. Stokes was waiting with a big limousine. Two nurses were with the patient, and accompanied him to his Long Branch home. He walked from the wheeled chair to his car. He was very pale, but appeared strong and in good spirits.

AID FOR PROSECUTION OF GIRLS OFFERED.

Attorney McManus said that since his client had been in the hospital he had been deluged with letters of condolence. Also he has received many letters offering aid in his prosecution of the Misses Conrad and Graham. Many of the writers volunteered to furnish Mr. Stokes with evidence about the careers of the two young women that would tend to prove Mr. Stokes's theory that they are dangerous members of society and should be prosecuted to the limit of the law.

"It will not be long," said Mr. McManus, "before these girls will change their flippant attitude and realize that they are in a serious plight. Those who are striving to make it appear that they are the innocent victims of a scheming rich man, who sought to burglarize their apartment, are building airy castles out of nothing."

"The burglar is a joke and a remote pitiable joke at that. Burgle do not usually hold telephone conversations with their victims and announce the time of their coming. When we get down to the real prosecution in this case the public will soon see how wrong is the attitude of sympathizing with these girls."

"GRAHAM GIRL DENIES 'HYPNOTIC INFLUENCE'."

Lillian Graham denied with great vehemence to-day that she exerted a hypnotic influence over Ethel Conrad. She said she is a serious girl, and that she was thirty years old. This is what the young woman said to an Evening World reporter when seen in her cell at the West Side Court prison:

"I wish you to deny that I have any hypnotic influence over Ethel Conrad. I want no sort of influence over her. I don't try. She has a mind of her own. We are good friends. We are both in trouble, but we are going to get out of it. We don't want any bondsmen Mr. Herman Phillips can furnish and we want for him to talk to tell him so. We don't require his services and we want him to stop talking about our case."

"Now it has been reported that I am thirty years old. That's an infamous lie. I can prove that on my birthday next Tuesday I'll be only twenty-three and not a day older. This is the first time I have been in New York unattended. Always before I was accompanied by one of my sisters. They will be here in aid me when the proper time arrives.

"I am not a worldly-wise woman, but I have traveled a bit and am not ignorant. I am no hypnotist, or do I ever want to be. We both want to be let alone. We have lawyers who have perfect faith in, and as for Mr. Phillips and his bondsmen they can go to hell, they can switch their routes."

WON'T TELL IF BURGLARY IS DEFENSE.

Asked if she reports that she and Miss Conrad would state in their defense that Mr. Stokes had entered their flat in disguise and that they had surprised him while rifling a desk for letters, shooting at him before they discovered his identity, Miss Graham replied:

"I have nothing to say about that. Our lawyers have enjoined us not to discuss the case and we do not intend to do so. We are and have heard that Mr. Stokes is out of the hospital. I am really very glad that he is going to get well."

Mrs. Charles Nagle, mother of Ethel Conrad, admitted to-day that her daughter had had a quarrel with James Farley, the strike breaker, when she thought he had made disparaging remarks about her.

"But they matched this up," said Mrs. Nagle, "and Mr. Farley has been like a father to her ever since. I am heartbroken over the attitude of my daughter in refusing to allow her family to come to her assistance."

"This Miss Graham is responsible for all her trouble. Miss Graham is a woman of thirty while my girl is only a mere child. Miss Graham completely dominates her will. It would seem, and can get her to do anything she wishes."

Ethel Conrad told to-day of a row she had had with a Spaniard while she was on the road with Leslie Carter's "Two Women" Company. The Spaniard had broken into her dressing room while she and another actress were half dressed and when they ordered him out he had used abusive language.

"I met the man the next night," said Miss Conrad, "and told him he had better apologize for his language. He laughed in my face. I demanded of the manager that he force the man to apologize, but the manager told me to hurry up and get on my way. He said he would get the apology later. I decided not to wait and put on my hat and left the show."

Bronx are also in favor of the Greater Coney Island Park. Mr. Greer says he will vote for the proposition if the property can be acquired at a fair and reasonable price. Mr. Miller declared that he believed in bargains, and if the city could get the burred area of Coney Island at a bargain he would support the project.

Mayor Gaynor has not spoken as yet with reference to the proposed extensions of the city's holdings along the beach front in the direction of Sea Gate. The Mayor, in conversation with friends, recently remarked that the agitation of The Evening World was in a worthy cause and that it deserved ultimate success. But whether the city could take on a financial burden of buying the property at this time was a subject upon which he did not commit himself.

The Evening World has been generally approved by the ministers of the New York in letters to the editor and by the president of the Board of Health.

Rev. C. A. Eaton for Great Seneca Park Plan

To the Editor of The Evening World: Owing to my absence from the city I have just received your recent communication with reference to the proposed scenic park at Coney Island. It is almost useless to say that I am heartily in sympathy with this or any other movement which will provide the people of our city with suitable opportunity for out-of-door life. Very sincerely yours, CHARLES A. EATON, Pastor Madison Avenue Baptist Church.

TALKING HAND WORTH $6,000

Court Refuses to Set Aside Jury's Award to Dente.

Justice Newburger, denying a motion in the Supreme Court today to set aside a verdict for $6,000 damages returned by a jury in favor of Walter Harriman, a deaf mute, whose right hand was crushed and badly injured in a printing press, held that the amount was not excessive, inasmuch as the hand injured was Harriman's "talking hand."

"ROCKEFELLER IS WORST OFFENDER; PROSECUTE HIM!"

Pomerene Lashes Oil Magnate in Senate and Calls for His Punishment.

NOT IMMUNE, HE HOLDS.

Out of Active Business but Still a Factor and Should Stand With Others.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Making a direct demand for the criminal prosecution of John D. Rockefeller, Senator Pomerene, Democrat of Ohio, delivered a powerful arraignment of Standard Oil and Tobacco Trust magnates in the Senate this afternoon, saying of Rockefeller:

"His pathway is marked by a greater number of victims whose business careers he has ruined by his unlawful methods than that of any other man in the industrial history of this country, and yet he has gone unwhipped of justice."

"Speaking for myself," he continued, "I think it high time that the American people should understand whether the Stars and Stripes are to be the emblems of their power and authority or the emblems of the oil barrel and the tobacco tag."

Pomerene spoke on his resolution instituting Attorney-General Wickersham to institute criminal proceedings immediately against the men behind the big trusts recently found guilty by the United States Supreme Court.

Pomerene gave a history of the Standard and the Tobacco Trusts and their flagrant violations of the anti-trust law.

"What excuse," asked the Senator, "can any sworn court official or law maker or any executive official give to the people of this country for a failure to enforce this law, when they are every day exerting themselves to punish other transgressors with less money and less influence at their command? A decent sense of self-respect requires the Government either to enforce this law or repeal it."

"What respect have these oil and tobacco men shown for law? The vast corporations and their learned counsel do not attempt to square their conduct with the law, but to warp the law to conform to their businesses."

ROCKEFELLER NOT IMMUNE, HE HOLDS.

The history of the Standard Oil Company and its allied interests in Ohio and Western Pennsylvania has been a continuous record on their behalf and on behalf of their officers, including John D. Rockefeller, to monopolize the oil business and to destroy, by means fair or foul, where he could not buy out his competitors at his own price. But it is said that he is not responsible; that he retired from active business more than ten years ago.

"Do you mean to tell me that a man can organize a band of law violators, furnish them with the sinews of war, serve as their captain, mark out and guide their course for a generation, and after a time, when he has grown tired of the personal strife in business, can still continue in it the same way through other agents, receive the greater portion of the earnings and yet not be responsible for his acts either civilly or criminally?"

"I deny that such is the law. I submit he ought not to be above the law. He is made of the same clay as other men, with more brains, much more money, and less business morals than the average man."

"In my judgment the recent victories in the United States Supreme Court will be of little avail unless more vigorous methods are adopted on the part of the Government than heretofore against this class of law violators."

CALLS FOR PROSECUTIONS BY WICKERSHAM.

"Prosecutions against them should be brought in every district in which there has been a violation of the law. I say this not out of a spirit of revenge, but in order to teach them that they, too, must obey the law. Is the Government now frightened at its own victories?"

"The Attorney-General is but a creature of the law. His office was created by Congress. He is required to perform such duties as Congress sees fit to demand of him. In this resolution it is proposed to declare that in the judgment of Congress he ought to begin these criminal proceedings and prosecute."

It had been Mr. Pomerene's intention to ask for a vote at the conclusion of his speech, but Senator Nelson was anxious to begin the delivery of an extended speech on Canadian reciprocity, and the Ohio Senator yielded to him. The resolution, subject to call, was laid aside for the time, but Mr. Pomerene will press for action on it at an early day.

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED.

Seismograph at Brooklyn College Active To-Day.

The seismograph in the Brooklyn College recorded a severe earthquake shock this morning, according to Prof. Glover. So far he has been unable to determine neither the distance nor the direction of the shock.

The preliminary disturbance was recorded from 9.43 to 9.46 A. M. The main disturbance was from 9.47 to 10.41 and the "tail" from 10.41 to 10.43. The maximum shock was at 9.55. Prof. Glover said that the vibration of the needle indicated an unusually severe earthquake disturbance at "quite a distance" from New York.

(Special to The Evening World.)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 15.—The Giants got in here to-day from Cincinnati, where they arrived yesterday and spent the afternoon playing the ponies at Latonia. The players claim they beat 'em, and according to Jack Murray, the winnings footed up to $1,500, which were pretty evenly distributed. The series between the Cardinals and New Yorkers brings to a close the stand of the home team against the Eastern members of the league and promises to be the hardest of any played this season. Against the Brooklyn, Boston and Philadelphia outfits, Brennan's Cardinals have prospered. An even break or better against the McGrawites will be satisfactory.

The New Yorkers no longer regard St. Louis as the "soft spot" of the circuit. Manager Brennan has finally won recognition from every city in the National League circuit.

The presence with the Giants of Mike Donlin, the recently reinstated outfielder, again revives the rumor that Managers Brennan and McGraw may turn a deal, while the Cardinals are in St. Louis, in which Mike will figure.

In the first inning Devere struck out. Doyle went out, Huggins to Koney and Snodgrass fled to Evans.

In the second half of the first inning Crandall tossed out Huggins. Bridwell threw out Smith and Ellis fanned.

In the second Murray singled to left, but was doubled up by Koney. Smith to Huggins, to Koney. Bridwell lined to Huggins.

LONG UNDER-SEA VOYAGE FOR SUBMARINE SQUADRON

Seven of the Death-Dealing Craft Will Be Three Days on Run from Newport to Marblehead.

NEWPORT, R. I., June 15.—Seven small, but death-dealing craft, left Newport Harbor to-day for an under-water voyage of about 150 miles to Gloucester, Mass. The craft making this trip, which is unique in American naval annals, are the submarines belonging to the Third Submarine Division of the Atlantic Fleet. The squadron is composed of the Grayling (flagship), Bonita, Narwhal, Salmon, Snapper, Stingray and Tarpon.

As soon as the squadron had reached the mouth of the outer harbor every craft submerged, only the periscopes showing above the surface, as they headed eastward in the direction of Vineyard Sound. During the trip, which is expected to consume three days, the submarines will come to the surface only for the purpose of recharging their batteries. They will put into some harbor each night, where they will rise from the depths.
